So your clarification is that you are not providing a clarified position? So may I note you are not opposed? I do not understand how under 7.1 you expect that a refusal to say whether or not you oppose the relief is appropriate? "A motion must be in writing and state with particularity the grounds and the relief sought. A party may adopt by reference another party's motion or other paper by making specific reference to the filing date and docket number of such motion or other paper. Movant must determine whether a motion is opposed, and a motion that omits recitation of a good-faith request for concurrence may be summarily denied." LR 7.1. You of course can omit that you included new evidence in the reply and can see that it is fair that we should be able to respond to new evidence with a surreply? Why, other than you and your clients being obstreperous because your feelings are hurt, would you oppose the relief requested?

Respectfully,
